1. Open Ubuntu Software Center

2. Search for gnome ppp dialer

3. Click on More info button once the GNOME PPP dialer tool appears

4. Click 'Use This Source'

5. Click the Install button on right when it appears

			Inst
			mst
			and the second
•	Setup		×
2
2	Setup
Modern Netw	Setup	~
Modern Netw	Setup orking Options

6. When the GNOME dialer tool has finished installing you will see the following:

7. Click All Software button at the top left

8. At the top right search for gnome-system-tools

Q	gnome-system-tools 🗵
	By Relevance 🔻

- 9. Click Install
- 10. When done reboot your computer
- 11. Open Dash

12. Search for user and open Users and Groups

13. Click 'Advanced Settings' button in lower right

Advanced Settings
Close

14. Under the User Privileges tab check the box that says 'Use modems' and hit OK (if you can't see the ok button use the workspace switcher tool at the left to get to the bottom of the screen)

- 15. Restart the computer16. Open the Gnome PPP dialer tool

17. Click Setup button

	PPP
Username:
Password:
	Remember password
Phone number:	▼
Quit	🛠 Setup 🗹 Connect

17. Plug the USB 56K Modem in and click Detect button, then click close working Options

Modem
Device:	/dev/ttyACM0	•	Detect
Type:	Analog Modem	÷
Speed:	460800	•
Phone Line	e: 🖲 Tone 🔿 Pu	lse
Volume:	High	$
	ions and Init String	s Init Strin	gs
Dial prefix	:
Dialattem	opts: 1	*
Diataccell

18. Now enter the user name and password your ISP has provided and click connect

Se GNOME	ррр
Username:	think
Password:	*****
	Remember password
Phone number:	000000000 👻
Quit	🛠 Setup 🗸 Connect

19. You should now be connected to the Internet